Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

The Federal Trade Commission has accepted an agreement to a proposed consent order from respondents Great Southern Video, Inc. ("GE Dallas"), New West Video Enterprises, Inc. ("GE Houston"), MWVE, Inc. ("GE Cleveland"), and Sun West Video, Inc. ("GE Phoenix").

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for sixty (60) days for reception of comments by interested persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After sixty (60) days, the Commission will again review the agreement and the comments received and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement or make final the agreement's proposed order.

The complaint alleges that GE Dallas, GE Houston, GE Cleveland, and GE Phoenix, as creditors under the Truth in Lending Act ("TILA"), have violated the TILA and its implementing Regulation Z. Specifically, the TILA requires creditors to make clear and consistent disclosures of the credit terms in a financed transaction. These franchises failed to accurately calculate and disclose the annual percentage rate ("APR") and the finance charge, which resulted in some consumers paying more in interest charges and finance charges than the franchises disclosed. The complaint further alleges that this practice is unfair or deceptive in violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act. The complaint also alleges that these franchises failed to disclose the finance charge more conspicuously than any other disclosure except the APR and the creditor's identity.

Additionally, the complaint alleges that these franchises failed to accurately disclose the itemization of the amount financed, which assists consumers in understanding whether they are being charged a prepaid finance charge or whether any of the proceeds are being distributed to third parties, and have failed to separate the itemization from all other information provided in connection with the transaction. Also, these franchises failed to provide a descriptive explanation of the financing terms. For example, the named franchises failed to explain that the APR is "the cost of your credit as a yearly rate" and that the finance charge is "the dollar amount the credit will cost you." The named franchises also failed to provide a description of the amount financed, the total of payments, and the total sales price.

The complaint also alleges that GE Dallas, GE Houston, and GE Phoenix failed to include in the finance charge a set-up fee that each charged to its customers that financed the costs of their memberships, but did not charge to its customers that paid cash. The TILA requires that such charges be made part of the finance charge. Instead, these franchises included the set-up fees in the amount financed, which resulted in the finance charge and the APR being underdisclosed.

The complaint also alleges that GE Houston failed to disclose the amount financed and the total of payments.

Finally, the complaint alleges that all of the named franchises failed to identify the creditor in each transaction, and failed to provide the total sales price.

The consent agreement would prohibit the franchises named herein from failing to accurately calculate and disclose the APR and any other terms required by the TILA.

The consent agreement includes a refund program requiring the named franchises to make adjustments to the account of any consumer to whom they disclosed an APR or finance charge that was lower than the amount the consumer actually was required to pay.

The consent agreement would also require the named franchises to maintain records of their compliance with the consent agreement, distribute copies of the agreement to their employees, and advise the Federal Trade Commission of any changes in their corporate structure.

The purpose of this analysis is to facilitate public comment on the proposed order, and it is not intended to constitute an official interpretation of the agreement and proposed order or to modify in any way their terms.

Donald S. Clark,

Secretary.

Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

The Federal Trade Commission has accepted an agreement to a proposed consent order from respondent JAMS Financial, Inc. ("GE Milwaukee").

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for sixty (60) days for reception of comments by interested persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After sixty (60) days, the Commission will again review the agreement and the comments received and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement or make final the agreement's proposed order.

The complaint alleges that GE Milwaukee, as a creditor under the Truth in Lending Act ("TILA"), has violated the TILA and its implementing Regulation Z. Specifically, the TILA requires creditors to make clear and consistent disclosures of the credit terms in a financed transaction. GE Milwaukee failed to accurately calculate and disclose the annual percentage rate ("APR") and the finance charge, which resulted in some consumers paying more in interest charges and finance charges than the franchise disclosed. The complaint further alleges that this practice is unfair or deceptive in violation of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

Finally, the complaint alleges that GE Milwaukee failed to identify the creditor in each transaction.

The consent agreement would prohibit GE Milwaukee from failing to accurately calculate and disclose the APR and any other terms required by the TILA.

The consent agreement includes a refund program requiring GE Milwaukee to make adjustments to the account of any consumer to whom it disclosed an APR or finance charge that was lower than the amount the consumer actually was required to pay.

The consent agreement would also require GE Milwaukee to maintain records of its compliance with the consent agreement, distribute copies of the agreement to its employees, and advise the Federal Trade Commission of any changes in its corporate structure.

The purpose of this analysis is to facilitate public comment on the proposed order, and it is not intended to constitute an official interpretation of the agreement and proposed order or to modify in any way their terms.

Donald S. Clark,

Secretary.
